Unit E residents demand that action be taken to curb the rise in crime

BY SILAS NDUVHENI

Communities in Thohoyandou Unit E (formerly Hamagidi), near Sibasa, gathered at Magidi Primary on Sunday, 1 February, to address rising crime such as housebreaking, theft and robbery.

The deputy chairperson of the Thohoyandou Unit E Civic Association, Mr Mashudu Ndou, said residents are tired of sleepless nights due to high crime levels. He urged communities to act responsibly and not watch from the sidelines.

Ndou invited other community leaders, including Tovhowni Seemise of Makwalela township, to discuss solutions such as night patrols, working with the police and avoiding vigilantism. All unresolved crime cases, he said, must be reported to the civic committee.

"We will engage with local police and councillors to find a way forward in dealing with unresolved crime cases," Ndou said.

Community member Mr Maanda Maboho stressed that talking alone will not help. "We must not harbour anybody committing crimes. Let's find out who they are and report them to the police. We don't want to take the law into our own hands, but we will not tolerate ongoing crimes," he said.

Ward 21 councillor Thifhelimbilu Liphadzi welcomed the discussions, saying it was positive that communities are seeking ways to keep their areas safe.
